Why," he said, "I'm out of shape myself. A young fellow like you ought not need so much time to get ready to fight me.' "Not before September," replied McCoy, and drifted away toward the betting

Champion Neil Coming East.

Frankie Neil, the bantam-weight champion, who knocked out Harry Forbes a few months ago in San Francisco, will soon be seen on this coast. Friday night he knocked out the best boy at the weight in Chicago—Tommy Moore—in less than a round. The blow that finished Moore was the same that won Neil the championship. It was a left-hand hook in the pit of the stomach. Neil has a peculiar knack of landing that blow. He holds his left arm close to his side, and when he gets in range whips it out like a flash. Clever Harry Forbes was unable when he gets in range whips it out like a mast. Clever harry Fordes was unable handliv. A. Zimmer, trainer, to block that hook or to keep away from it. May live to fight another day.

Tow we know why Cooke fought 130 fights and never was knocked out. Some gionths ago it was said that Jordan, the English feather-weight champion, was coming to this country to fight "Young Corbett." He never materalized. "Corbett" is now on the ocean, returning from England. While there he negotiated for a fight with Jordan, but it was announced that the English champion was holding a government position and could not engage in ring battles just at present.

Jehries-Munroe Gossip.

The championship fight between Jeffries and Munroe is arousing more enthusiasm in San Francisco now that Munroe has begun work on the beach. The miner is impressive in training, principally because he goes at his work as if he meant to fight. He is tireless when in preparation. The crowds that go out to the beach to see him train go away again with the idea that Munroe means well, whether he has a chance to win or not,
